

Florida Wetlandsbank Pembroke Pines
Southwest Broward County, Florida

Florida Wetlandsbank Pembroke Pines site is generally accepted as one of the most successful mitigation banking projects in the country. Sales started in 1993 on the original 350-acre site. 100 contiguous acres were added to the bank site during its late 1990's. Construction and sales were completed in 1999. Credit sales exceeded $20 million and the environmental success is so well noted that, editorials from both the Miami Herald and the Fort Lauderdale Sun-Sentinel praising the environmental work on the site were written extolling the success of the bank site.
